Umnya Desert Camp

One group at a time, in the great dune sea of Erg Chegaga

A fully private luxury camp in the deep Moroccan Sahara. Eight tents, sixteen guests, a resident team of twelve, and silence to the horizon. Reached by 4×4 through the Draa Valley, or by helicopter from Marrakech.

SEASON · SEPTEMBER THROUGH JUNE

Alone in the dunes, by design

Umnya Desert Camp sits alone in Erg Chegaga, the wildest and most remote dune sea in Morocco, an hour and a half beyond M'Hamid, the last village of the Draa Valley. There is no road, no town, no other camp in sight, and no ambient noise at all.

The camp hosts one group at a time, always as a full privatization. Your retreat has the entire property, staff, and dune sea to itself.

LUXURY TENTS	GUESTS MAX	RESIDENT STAFF	GROUP AT A TIME

- Eight tents, each with private bathroom and hot shower
- Open-air practice deck facing the dunes, plus a shaded majlis lounge
- Full board: chef-prepared Moroccan and international cuisine, dietary needs welcome
- Off-grid by design: solar power, no cell signal, night skies with zero light pollution

Two ways in, both unforgettable

By road. Marrakech to camp in private 4×4, around seven hours through the Atlas Mountains and the Draa Valley. A journey that becomes part of the retreat, with curated stops along the way.

By helicopter. Marrakech to camp in about 1h10. Ideal for premium groups, arrival day comfort, or leaders who want maximum time on site. Mixed formats work beautifully: drive in through the valley, fly out over the dunes.

SEASON

September through June

October, November, March and April are the signature retreat months: warm days, crisp nights, perfect conditions for sunrise practice and evening fires. December to February offer brilliant clear days and the deepest silence of the year, under extraordinary winter skies.

A sample five days

Day 1

Arrival via the Draa Valley or by helicopter. Welcome tea ceremony. Sunset walk into the dunes. Opening circle by the fire.

Day 2

Sunrise practice on the deck. Morning workshop. Siesta and free time. Afternoon camel trek through the dunes. Night astronomy session.

Day 3

Sunrise dune hike and practice on the crest. Brunch. Full silence afternoon, optional. Sound healing at dusk. Berber music by the fire.

Day 4

Morning practice. Workshop or one-to-one sessions. Afternoon 4×4 expedition to the Iriki dry lake. Farewell dinner under the stars.

Day 5

Final sunrise practice. Closing circle. Departure by 4×4 or helicopter.

Every program is built with you. Flexible meal times, dedicated workshop spaces, full silence protocols available, sound equipment and mats on site.
